THEY ALSO SERVED.

THE committee on invalid pensions of the house of representatives at Washington has under consideration a bill introduced by Representative John W. Langley of Kentucky extending the act of October 6, 1917, which raised the pensions of widows to $25, so as to include army nurses. As it now stands the act applies only to widows of soldiers of the Civil war, Spanish war and Philippine insurrection. In addition to placing nurses on the same plane with those widows, Mr. Langley's bill makes the increase also apply to widows of veterans of the War of 1812, the Mexican war, and all of the Indian wars. Mr. Langley is the ranking Republican member of the committee, and will see to it that his measure receives careful attention.

A SHORTAGE IN EXECUTIVE ABILITY.

SECRETARY OF WAR BAKER has told us of the "shortages" that are apparent in his department. There are "shortages" here and "shortages" there. But the greatest "shortage" is very evidently that of executive ability. Red tape and musty bureaucracy, while they may in the end bring certain results, are too slow of movement for these restless days.

The war department is undertaking altogether too much work, hence is not meeting requirements. England had the same experience. It experimented with cabinets intended for peaceful days and reorganized them. It created a special ministry for the speeding of munitions, and then it began to overcome obstacles.

A department of munitions is sorely needed in Washington. Does not congress begin to realize the fact?

NOW IS THE TIME.

THERE are a number of husky young men in Tonopah who have soft hands and flabby muscles only through disuse in employments that would toughen them up and make them perfect physically. Such young men should enter at once upon the useful trades, particularly mining. There is, or soon will be, a scarcity of men in the mines and mills. Manhattan is already experiencing a shortage because of the departure of qualified machinists and other artisans who are looking for the higher pay in the shipyards and other government, or semi-government, industries on the coast. Their positions must be filled, or some of the mines may be compelled to close down. It would be a public spirited move on the part of the qualified young men, whose income is precarious and intermittent, to seek steady employment in this industry. It would prove to his benefit, as well as that of all others, the government included.

As the old test line on the typewriter reads: "Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their country."

THE LEAVEN OF HUMAN BROTHERHOOD.

THE Bonanza is pleased to advocate the Red Cross benefit dance to be held next Wednesday night at the Airdome. When everybody gets together to accomplish a given purpose it is a benefit to the community itself, and this is what is being done at this time. The woman who gave the sugar called up and requested that she might be allowed to donate something. String and tissue paper and everything else have been given. Every grade in the school from the kindergarten up has had a hand in making the decorations. They are bound to be pretty and effective, but even if they were a rank failure from an artistic standpoint the fact that the children made them with enthusiasm is sufficient in itself.

"Except ye become as a little child." What a great lesson we should take from the children! Their unselfish desire to do; not for praise, not to excel their neighbor, not for anything except for the joy in the working out of the fulness of a pure affection. We should all bear such a spirit. It is the intangible thing we call "morale" and is more valuable to a community than mines or banks or spreading fields of grain. Let us have more of such gatherings. It is the leaven of human brotherhood for which the Red Cross stands.

ADVICE TO THE ALIEN ENEMY.

BY THE registration of alien enemies, which began this morning, the government has no ulterior motive. It is not planning to work any hardship upon the stranger within our gates simply because he is the subject of a potentate against whom we are waging war. It is not proposed by this registration to blacklist the alien enemy from employment, to intern him, or otherwise interfere with his peaceful avocations.

But it may be necessary to prescribe, as already has been done in certain instances, where he shall reside and where he shall engage in business. This is a safeguard against the possibility of any crimes, such as arson or dynamiting, being committed upon public works and industries. The alien is getting very liberal consideration in this registration matter, one that will protect him as well as the American people and the American government.

One of the most concise and expressive renditions of the case was given by the United States attorney general at the declaration of hostilities: "The alien enemy within our boundaries need fear nothing if he obeys the laws and keeps his mouth shut." But, at that, it is likely to become very unpleasant for any alien enemy who refuses to register. Postmaster McQuillan must complete his registration by the 9th of February. After that the government will be compelled to adopt more stringent means.

TAKEN FROM THE TELEGRAPH.

American women are advised not to marry foreigners until their citizenship status has been fixed; but most American women probably will be content with home folk for husbands anyhow.

The sheriff and prosecuting attorney of an Indiana county asked the governor to commute the sentence of a man awaiting execution, saying that thoughts of hanging him "made them sick." The doomed man joined in the plea. It seems that the idea was distasteful to him also.

"But for study of the sciences," said the professor, "we wouldn't know that the earth is round." The professor, however, was wrong. No study is necessary. If you doubt that it is round just try to walk on it some night after a Mulligan club banquet.

Manhattanites should like the optimism of that Jerseyman who was laboriously digging a trench in the snow from his front step to the station. "Oh, well it might be worse," he said as he stopped to shake his shovel. "We ain't got the pesky 'skeeters to pester us, anyhow."

Secretary Daniels and others who ate the "trench" dinner served them the other night were lucky to get it at 16 cents a plentiful, for at the rate prices are rising we'll soon have to pay that much for the plate.

If a bill now pending in congress becomes law the Indian may vote; and then again he may not. Indians are awfully independent.

Among other things the sometime hyphenate can't understand is why this government should have objected to Von Rintelen's activities before war was declared.

"Packers Plotted to Control All U. S. Meat."—Headline. And succeeded in doing so, didn't they?

Japan has again pledged "full military co-operation." When Japan has an hour off she pledges full military co-operation and then returns to the important task of strengthening her own merchant marine.

Be of good heart. With a settlement of the Irish question in prospect and something like a normal coal supply promised for "some time in February," the future is not altogether dark.

Evidently Von Hertling was glad to find four of the Wilson world peace points upon which he could rest with some degree of comfort, after having been painfully tossed about upon the other ten points.

Perforce the world learns much in its wartime march. We now know that an excellent ragout is made of horse meat. Giddap!

Germany has issued what sounds a good deal like a penitentiary to the allies.

REPORT OF TONOPAH SCHOOL OF MINES

Prof. Ellsworth R. Bennett, principal of the Tonopah School of Mines of the University of Nevada, has addressed the following report to Dr. Lincoln, his superior officer: Prof. Francis Church Lincoln, Director Mackay School of Mines, Reno, Nev.

Dear Professor Lincoln: Pursuant to your request of recent date, I take pleasure in submitting the following report of the Tonopah School of Mines for the fall semester of 1917:

Introduction.
 The Tonopah School of Mines was created by an act of the legislature of 1915, and the registration of students began on May 1, 1915.

Requirements for Admission.
 The only requirement for admission is that the applicant shall be able to read and write the English language.

Course of Instruction.
 Instruction is given in arithmetic, algebra, geometry, trigonometry, chemistry, drawing, surveying, mineralogy, assaying, cyaniding, geology and prospecting. The mathematics, with the exception of arithmetic and chemistry, are of high school grade, while the balance of the course is the equivalent of college work.

Hours of Instruction.
 Classes are held during the day and in the evening so that men working both day and night shifts can be accommodated. The same subjects are taught in both classes. By this arrangement the student continues the same study when he changes shift. The hours of the day session are adjusted to correspond with the idle time of the night shift men. The evening class is held from 6 until 8 o'clock. The laboratory is open during the afternoon for students who desire to work during that period. The school is in session daily with the exception of Saturday and Sunday.

Building.
 At the end of the spring semester of 1917 we were notified by the Tonopah school board that the quarters we were then occupying in the old high school building would be needed for the city schools. After inspecting a number of available buildings, the Harper residence, on University street, was leased for a term of sixteen months. Early in September, after the installation of our equipment in the new quarters, classes were resumed.

Equipment.
 The two rooms on the second floor of the building are used for study and recitation work. They are furnished with the necessary tables, desks and chairs for this purpose.

All laboratory work is performed in the three rooms located on the ground floor of the building. A chemical laboratory, an assaying laboratory and a balance room occupy this space. Room is provided for nine students working at one time at the chemistry table, which is equipped with running water and gas. A full stock of chemicals and laboratory apparatus for ordinary chemical and metallurgical operations is kept on hand. The assay laboratory contains the necessary crusher, bucking boards, samplers, balances, cupel machine, furnace and minor equipment. The work in mineralogy and geology is also performed in these rooms.

Fall Semester of 1917.
 Like the attendance of other institutions of its kind, that of the Tonopah School of Mines was quite seriously affected by the enlistment or draft of many of its students. During the summer of 1917 fourteen of our students enlisted in either the army or navy. Of thirty men who were registered in the school in June, 1917, only ten were present at the opening of the fall semester. During the month of September the attendance was increased by the registration of seven new students. Seven additional names were enrolled between October 1 and December 10, so that the total number of men receiving instruction in the school for this term was twenty-four. Instruction was given in algebra, geometry, trigonometry, mineralogy, surveying, mechanical drawing and assaying. In a school of this kind where students may enter at any time it is impossible to conduct regular classes in the different subjects. Occasionally class formation may be followed, but more often individual instruction must be given. This was the case during the past term.

Mathematics and mineralogy have proved to be the popular courses at the school. Many prospectors have derived a great deal of benefit from the course in mineralogy. While this winter in Tonopah a number of prospectors are taking work with us which will be of value to them upon their return to the field next spring.

Employment for Students.
 Since my last report to you I have had occasion to recommend a number of our students for positions with different mining companies in the state. The superintendents of the local mining companies are ever ready to give employment to these men who desire to work at the mines and attend the school in their spare time.

Conclusion.
 Although the school is well housed at the present time, it is my opinion that if a permanent location could be secured the institution would be established on a firm basis and would grow accordingly. The money now being expended for rent would soon pay for the building that we are now occupying.

Respectfully submitted,
 ELLSWORTH R. BENNETT,
 Principal.

ARRESTED FOR TREASON.

(By Associated Press.)
 LONDON, Feb. 4.—Deputy Dittman of the German reichstag, who was arrested while addressing Berlin strikers, is accused not only of infringing martial law, but of inciting to high treason, according to the Berlin press. The Lokal Anzeiger says he urged in his speech that the strike must be maintained.
